who make the best of life. After all, in the long run the honey of life is for those who seek it, and the advantages for those that strive for them. Do not be numbered among those gloomy people who have nothing to smile about. Remember always that heartiness depends largely upon healthiness. No one can be quite as hearty as he would desire to be if he is not as healthy as he ought to be. Good Health is essential to bright spirits and a bright outlook, and any measures whereby the physical standard can be improved are worthy of careful consideration. Those

WHO TAKE Recham's Fills are strongly of opinion that no better medicine has been compounded for the relief of the common ailments of the disestive system. It is well known that disepeptic troubles are the cause of many bodily ills and much depression of spirits. Beecham's Fills, by their tonic and cleansing effects upon the stomach, liver and bowels promote the efficiency and healthy action of those important organs. Hence the great important organs. Hence the great important organs are the great in general health invariably experienced by those who take Prohibitive Price of Coal.—The Athy Poor Law Guardians at this week's meeting adopted a resolution received from the Irish Gas Managers' Association, which viewed with apprehension the present prohibitive prices of gas coal, which would mean the closing down of many of the smaller works and other industries.

Adequate supplies of gas coal for Ireland were demanded at reasonable prices.

On Tuesday a resolution applauding the political sagacity of the Nationalist Party was marked "read" by the Swinford District Council. This was a nasty blow for Mr. Dillon. Swinford has always been his stronghold in County Mayo—his Egeria from whom he sought comfort and encouragement in troubled times. It has turned against him now because it blames him for the fact that Mayo harvest-men in England are being "hounded from pillar to post." Great Britain accepted compulsory service, and most of her farm very rude to them. This year's Irish harvest season in England is going to be a failure. For the moment, the councillors of Swinford do not censure Mr. Dillon's success in exempting Ireland from conscription; they blame him for the natural and inevitable results of that exemption. They were led to believe during many years that the "Party" was omniscient and omnipotent. They wan to know now why it is not protecting the Irish labourers in England, securing employment for them at five or six shillings. A day, compelling the English soldiers' wives and mothers to be civil to them. Their disappointment is acute, and we may admit that it has made them uncharitable.

In that hour Nationalist Ireland will find that the English people is essentially just and has a long memory. We are convinced, of course, that the British Government ought to impose military service on Ireland; but we are astonished that intelligent and patriotic Nationalists should wait to have it imposed on them. In the interest of the sent police have been granted and natural problems asking for an increase in pay of 5s. per week. They have been granted and have received, a war bouns of the statements has it is made and the regarding over the day by the magnistrate presiding over the day by the magnistrate presiding over the west London Police Court, where an Irishman named Coyle, registered in the district, was charged with being an absentee under the Military Service Act. land are being "hounded from pillar to post." Great Britain accepted compulsory service, and most of her farm labourers of military age are now in the training camps, or fighting the Germans in France, at the State's Spartan wage of one shilling a day. Mr. Dillon's efforts enabled the western peasant to escape compulsory service, and he went to England as usual, in the joyous hope of taking the place of the conscripted Englishman at a wage of five or six shillings a day. Apparently neither he nor Mr. Dillon saw anything discreditable in the transaction, but the English labourers' women and friends take a different view. They want to know why strong, young Irishmen have been allowed to evade the general obligation. They refuse to employ them, and the women cannot be prevented from being very rude to them. This year's Irish harvest season in England is going to be a failure. For the moment, the councillors

THE RUSSIANS OVER THE

The deepest significance, says The Times, attaches to the confirmation of the news that Russian forces are marching across the Dobrudja, as they marched less than forty years ago, when they went to effect by long and costly sacrifices the liberation of Bulgaria. The Russian troops are understood to have crossed the Danube near Reni, some distance to traverso by road before they reach the new Bulgarian frontier, but we should soon see Russians and Bulgarians in conflict, a spectacle which no Bulgarian who reverenced the glorious memories of Plevna and the Shipka can ever have expected to witness. There is trepidation in the camps of both Bulgarians and Turks, as well there may be. intervention of Rumania almost defies analysis, says The Times. It is extraordinarily confused and contradictory. Most of the papers plainly forgot what they had been writing up to the very eve of the event, and pretended that Rumania's action was thoroughly expected. The Berlin correspondent of the Frankfurter Zeitung boldly faces the fact that Germany has always said that Rumania would infervene on the winning side. But, in reply to the obvious inference that Germany is now losing, he can only declare that Rumania, so far from having any doubts about German victory, is merely "dragged as the last victim to the slaughter," under the increasing pressure of England and Russia. Other papers describe Rumania as "committing suicide." It is remarkable that the Jewish organs, which have hitherto expressed the deepest admiration of Rumania as a field for German financial enterprises, are now the most furious.

GERMAN FEARS OF A FOOD PANIC.

One of the most remarkable features of the morning's' officers.

One of the most remarkable features of the German Press discussion, says The Times, is the feverish zeal to persuade the public that the intervention of Rumania will not have a disastrous effect on the German food supply. On Monday night and Tuesday morning the papers were flooded with sudden and obviously premature announcements about the German harvest, and the inspired telegrams sent out from Berlin devote almost as much space to the food question as to the political and military considerations. Whereas the Press has previously beasted of the enormous value of the corn expects from Rumania, they are now written down to the most trifling proportions. At the same time the Government hurriedly announced that a considerable increase of the tread rations in Germany is to be expected immediately.

THE INVASION OF TRANSYLVANIA.

TRANSYLVANIA.

Two days ago, says The Times, we discussed the beginning of the struggle for the passe of the Transplvanian Alps in the full expectation that Austria-Hungary would defend her South-Eastern frontier, but there seems to have been no cerious struggle at all. The first bulletin issued by Rumania, and published yesterday, showed that the Rumanian Army is already in possession of every important pass leading into Transplvania. Whatever the plans of the Austro-Hungarian Staff may be, they certainly sannot have provided for the voluntary admission of such a torrent of havasion. Transplvania has evidently been left comparatively defenceless, first, because it was not believed that Rumania would join the Allies, and, secondly because Austria cannot now adequately defend the province even if she wants to. The consequence is that the initial steps of Rumania's great enterprise are proving easier than was foreseen by onlookers at a distance.

THE RUSSIANS OVER THE

DANUBE. The deepest significance, says The Times, attaches to the confirmation of the news that Russian forces are marching across the Dobrudja, as they marched less than forty years ago, when they went to effect by long and costly sacrifices the liberation of Bulgaria. The Russian troops are understood to have crossed the Danube near Reni, some distance below Galatz. GERMANY AND RUMANIA. The German Press comment on the intervention of Rumania almost defies analysis, says The Times. It is ex-traordinarily confused and contradictory. Most of the papers plainly forgot what they had Most of the papers plainly forgot what they nad Most of the papers plainly forgot what they nad been writing up to the very eve of the event, and prelended that Rumania's action was the roughly expected. BELLIGERENTS AND REPRISALS.

GERMAN OFFICIAL.

Yesterday's Berlin communiqué:—
In the sector en both sides of Armentières vigorous enemy activity is reported.

Enemy reconnaissances following upon a strong artillery preparation were repulsed at Roclincourt.

North of Arras a German patrol returned with some prisoners from a British tench. On both sides of the Somme artillery gighting continues with great violence. It has just been reported that we lost yesterday the salient jutting out towards the enemy position south of Martinpuich. In the Meuse sector, apart from minor hand-grenade fighting at Fleury, quiet has prevailed.

REPRISALS. VISCOUNT GREY AND THE RED CROSS APPEAL.

The Press Bureau issued late last night the text of a communication addressed to belligerents and neutrals by the International Red Cross Committee on the subject of reprisals on prisoners of war, together with Viscount Grey's relly thereto.

The International Red Cross Committee cannot, they say, remain indifferent before the spectacle of the repudiation of the principle on which the Red Cross was founded, and the beligerents are appealed to to abandon the practice of reprisals on prisoners, and to renounce the principle which inspires it. Do not, says the appeal, endeavour to exercise pressure on enemies by chastisement inflicted on those of their people at your mercy, but rather appeal to the opponent's sense of justice, and offer in return to accord to his people a like favour. CROSS APPEAL.

VISCOUNT GREY'S REPLY.

The Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs returned the following reply through His Majesty's representative at Berne, copies of it being also communicated to the Governments of the Allied and neutral Powers through His Majesty's representatives:

The International Red Cross Committee have addressed to beligerent and neutral Astions a letter dated July 12th, 1916, in which the Committee plead the cause of prisoners of war, and deprecate the adoption by belligerents of the policy of reprisals. His Majesty's Government have throughout the period of hostilities discountenanced that policy on account of its indiscriminating and unjust operation. A succession of outrages has, however, been perpetrated by orders, or with the exguisance and approval, of the German Government, of which the cumulative effect has been to strain the temper and patience of the British people to breaking point, and to create a situation of the ulmost gravity. It is increasing to attempt an exhaustive enumeration of these outrages, but among there may be mentioned the sink-ing, in Arvention of the law of the state of the most elementary principles of unannity, of the vessels Lustiania and Sussex, whereby hundreds of defenceless civillans, many if them women and children, were sent to heir death, to the unconcealed satisfaction of the German Press and people; the brutal execution of Nurse Cavell, whose sex, and the fact them women and children, were sent to air death, to the unconcealed satisfaction of e German Press and people; the brutal exection of Nurse Cavell, whose sex, and the fact at she had spent a blameless life devoted to alleviation of suffering, and since the ward even nursed wounded German soldiers, and have been sufficient to secure mitigation her sentence; the criminal desertion by the reman suthorities of the camps for prisoners war, at Wittenberg and Gardekegn, at a se when the unfortunate expires interned are were stricken with disease, itself aggrated, if not initiated, by the callous disregard the part of those in charge of the ordinary gience precautions which are essential in a owided concentration camp; the confiscation the German Government of about twenty r cent. of the remittances sent to British isoners of war (combatant and civilian) intend in Germany, and the execution of the ptain of the steamship Brussels, after he had en sentenced to death for having committed act of self-defence well recognised by the way of war on sea. The International Comittee appeal to the belligerent Powers not to tempt to obtain redress for their grievances resort to reprisals, but to request neutral feers to impress on the enemy concerned the miderations of humanity and justice. His ajecty's Government readily respond to that speal, being confident that the neutral Powers of the surfact of abuse; that that the demand for reprisals grows in volume and urgency with the recurrence of abuses; that the surest means of avoiding reprisals is to promote the abundonment of the policy which assired them. Foreign Office August, 1916.

ENEMY ATTACKS AGAINST Yesterday's Italian communique:—
In the Upper Posina and Astice Valleys small attacks by the ammy were repulsed. Yesterday artillery of all calibres concentrated intense fire on our new positions on the Cauriol, which commands the Fiemme Valley and threatens communications between Cavalese and the Upper Avisio Valley. Our troops, however, continued to consolidate the positions.
In the Drava Valley we again shelled the railway stations of Toblacec and Lillian.
In Gorgia area and on the Carso the enemy, is hastily trying to consolidate himself, and is displaying artillery and considerable bombing activity. Yesterday we drove off an attack near Tivoli, east of the town.
Hostile aircraft dropped numerous bombs on the lagoon on Marane killing one woman, wounding a few civilians, and causing slight damage.

MENACE TO RUMANIA'S EFFECT ON BULGARIA.

RUSSIANS CROSSING RUMANIA.

FRENCH SUCCESS SOUTH OF WARSHIPS AT CONSTANZA. cording to the Rumanian commu Russian troops are now pressing across the province of Dobrodja, in Rumania, apparently making for the Bulgarian frontier. Portions of the Russian Fleet have also arrived at Constanza to defend Rumania's Black Sea coast.

Otherwise no important actions are reported, so far as Rumania is concerned.

RUMANIAN OFFICIAL.

Yesterday's Rumanian communiqué:—
The general mobilisation of the Army, which began on the night of August 27, is being duly carried out. The declaration of war against Austria-Hungary was delivered in Vienna at 9.4 p.m. on August 27.
During the night of August 27 Rumanian troops attacked the Austro-Hungarian frontier.
The troops of our Imperial Ally, Russis, have begun to press through the Dobrodja, where they are being enthusiastically welcomed by the population. population.

Units of the Russian Fleet have arrived at Constansa, where they will help us to defend our Black Soa coasts.

Austro-Hungarian warships and batteries have fired on Varciorova, Turnu, Severin, and Giurava.

AUSTRIAN REPORT. Yesterday's Vienna communique;

Rumanian attacks on the heights cast of Herkules Furds, the Hungarian watering place on the Cerna River, were repulsed. In the Csik Mountains the Austrian troops, occupied new positions on the heights west of Csik-Szereda.
Otherwise no important change has occurred on the Hungarian front.

In the vicinity of High Wood to day the enemy left his trenches with the intention of attacking, but was stopped by our machine gun fire, and no attack developed.

Some mining activity of little importance took place on both sides about Neuville St. Vaast and in the Loos salient early this morning; also some fairly heavy bombardments in various sections during the day.

Amongst the prisoners mentioned in this morning's communique were eight officers.

The Commander of the Russian forces in Rumania, with five officers and his suite, arrived here to-day. He was received at the railway station by the Russian Military Attaché and the Russian officers attached to the Russian Legation. WASHINGTON, TRURSDAY.

It is announced formally that the President and Senate and the House leaders have agreed to the Adamson Bill'as a compromise for the settlement of the railway dispute. This bill will be introduced in the House to-day. It is confidently believed that its passage by both Houses will result in the immediate calling off of the threatened railway strike. The bill authorises the establishment of an eight-hour day, the appointment of a special Commission to observe its operation, the increase of membership of the Inter-State Commerce Commission, and military operation of the railroads. It further makes any violation of the provisions a misdemeanour punishable of a fine of from 100 to 1,000 dollars, with the alternative of imprisonment not exceeding one year, or in addition to such imprisonment. A letter has been addressed to the Chairman and General Manager of each Irish railway company by Mr. A. G. Walkden, General Secretary of the Railway Clerks' Association, stating that at the earnest request of the large body of Irish members of the Association he brings again under their notice the very serious economic position in which Irish railway station-masters and clerks are placed by reason of the increase in the cost of living, and hoping that the companies and the Committee of the Irish Railway Clearing House may now find it possible to make sech an all-round increase in salaries as will put their staff upon an equal footing with their colleagues in Great Britain. The latest figures issued by the Board of Trade showed that the increase in food prices since July, 1914, was no less than 60 per cents, which meant that the purchasing power of the sovereign had been reduced to 12a. 6d. Shortly after the first war bonus was conceded to the FOR INCREASE.
